

An opportunistic fixed income strategy, designed to provide low correlation to core fixed income, offering current yield, low interest rate sensitivity and limited downside volatility.

FUND OVERVIEW

- The Semper Total Return Fund seeks to provide a high level of risk-adjusted current income and capital appreciation
- The Fund will be invested in fixed income securities similar to Semper Capital Management's existing $2.0 billion U.S.-domiciled MBS Total Return Strategy
- Investments will be concentrated in U.S. Mortgage-Backed Securities (MBS) including Non-Agency and Agency MBS and related structured credit sectors including Commercial Mortgage-Backed Securities (CMBS) and Asset-Backed Securities (ABS)

FUND REVIEW

Fund performance in April was generated by a combination of nearly 40 basis points of interest income and price gains in Subprime, Agency CRT, and SFR securities. The U.S. dollar SEMTIUU share class returned 0.58%. We continued to position the portfolio for stable monetary policy, reducing the allocation to higher priced CRT securities with negative duration and adding newer issue CRT securities with good convexity characteristics, SFR and seasoned Freddie Mac K multifamily securitizations. Yield remained steady and duration extended modestly.

MARKET HIGHLIGHTS

U.S. intermediate rates rose 10 basis points and the yield curve steepened by 10 basis points as the market's outlook for domestic and global growth improved modestly. Non-Agency RMBS spreads generally tightened as fundamental credit quality continued to show improvement and the Agency MBS basis tightened. Most floating rate and negative duration profiles modestly rose in price, and fixed rate securities' prices generally held steady as spread contraction offset the general rise in rates. The Agency MBS Index yield rose and duration extended. New issue activity was robust with most RMBS deals seeing healthy subscription levels, and volatility was generally low.

OUTLOOK

We continue to expect U.S. interest rates to remain in a near term range. Additional Fed action is expected to be data dependent, with inflation, currently softer than the Fed target level, one critical factor. We expect to maintain a diversified portfolio of fixed and floating rate paper in both legacy and new issue sectors, while maintaining liquidity to benefit from attractive investment and trading opportunities during bouts of volatility. Current employment data, home price appreciation at the national level, and consumer credit data remain positively trending, supporting the relative value in RMBS.

GROWTH OF $10,000 SINCE INCEPTION ***

*As of April 30, 2019.
